James Blyden

Film Review

5.1 Review and critique a short film

Film Title, Director, Country, Year	Star wars: the Last Jedi; Director: Rian Johson. Country: USA 2017
Story outline (1 or 2 sentence summary)	A girl, Rey, tries to convice an old Jedi master to save the Resistance who are fleeing from the First Order.
What is the film trying to say/explore?	Don't give up, there is always hope no matter how small it is. The resistance are a spark which could burn the First order down.
Describe the genre (if fiction film), or style (if documentary).	~~Action~~ Science fiction
What is the narrative structure?
How has the director used sound?	There is one Scene where the director has used very little Sound to show an extremely important moment. It makes it feel like time is standing still.

James Bryden

Describe the main camera techniques:	There are lots of extreme long shots. There are often very beautiful and are used to show an important scene or location.
Describe the editing style:
Describe the setting, locations used:	One location is in Scotland or Ireland where they filmed on cold a small green island. Another was a vast white landscape, underneath it was red crystal.
Who is the film aimed at? Would you recommend it?	The film is ultimately aimed at kids or teens however anyone can watch it. I probably wouldn't recommend the film to anyone. There are some scenes which are boring. It lacks character and story development and is one big missed opportunity.